

駿府城公園

Sumpu Castle Park is home to historical structures such as the Higashi Gomon gate and Tatsumi Yagura turret. Momijiyama Garden takes advantage of this historical background; it was modeled after a daimyo's garden, and strikes a harmony of pleasure and joy. Centered on four gardens that distill the scenery of Suruga Province, this is a place to experience Japan's four seasons. Enjoy a cup of green tea as you admire the natural beauty.

紅葉山庭園

里の庭

Garden of the Village

As soon as you come through the entrance gate, you are greeted by flowers. A wooden pavilion provides a space to relax and welcomes you the world of a traditional Japanese garden. Irises bloom in early summer around the staggered wooden bridge over the pond.

海の庭

Garden of the Sea

A pine grove facing the pond over a sandy white beach evokes the seashore. Rocks in the pond and on the opposite shore characterize the scenic beauty for which the Izu area is renowned.

山の庭

Garden of the Mountain Village

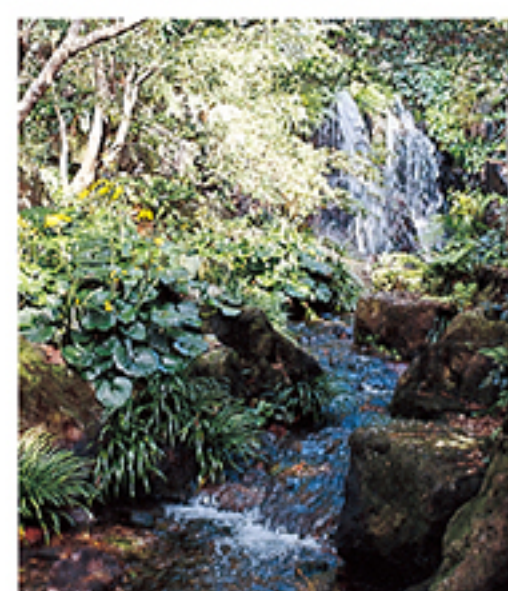

A miniature Mount Fuji, representing Shizuoka, sits in the center of the garden. Standing atop the hill provides a panoramic view of the garden. The lower part is designed with azaleas to represent terraced tea fields, also a symbol of Shizuoka.

山の庭

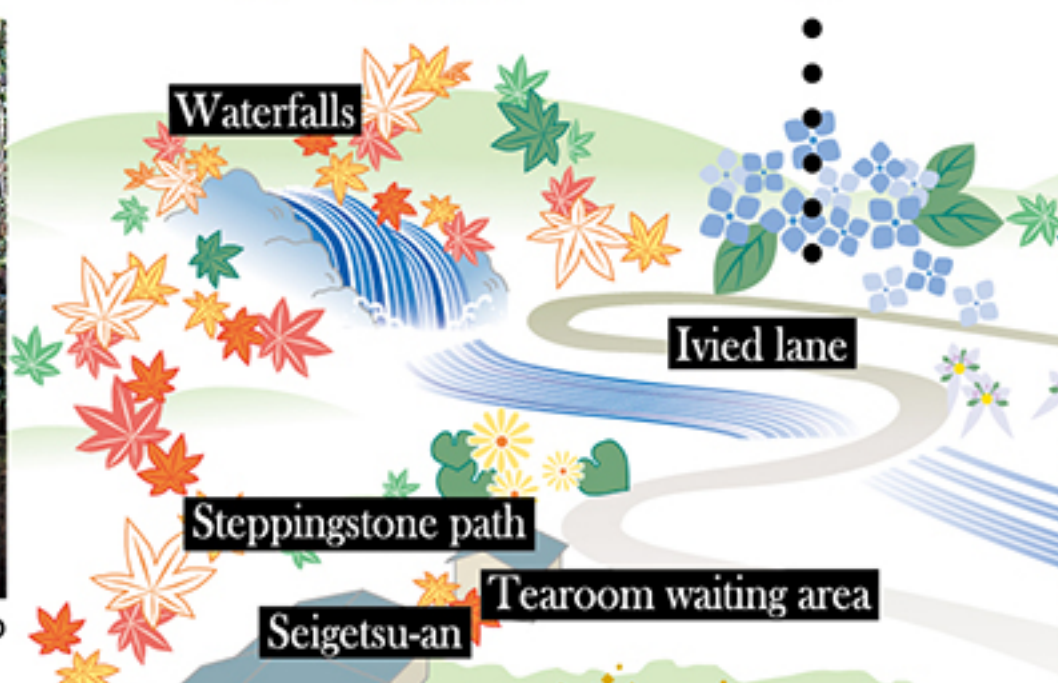

Garden of the Mountain

Walking along the stream leads you to two different waterfalls – one rushing, the other refined. They symbolize the beauty and magnificence of the mountainous countryside. The ivied lane goes the other way around and leads to the miniature Mount Fuji.

A garden that distills the beauty and charm of Suruga Province's scenery.

Water splashes from two double-tiered waterfalls.

A steppingstone path leads from the waiting shelter to Seigetsu-an.

Teahouse entrance

A casual tearoom with tables and chairs: Enjoy tea and sweets here during your stroll (fee applies). A modern twist to a traditional format.

Miniature Mount Fuji

The graceful slope of miniature Mount Fuji is reflected in the pond.

A sandy beach modeled after Miho no Matsubara.

Stone path

The staggered bridge over the pond.

Wooden pavilion

Momijiyama Garden entrance

A wooden pavilion that blends in with its surroundings.